My notes, C language:

<https://www.gnu.org/software/gettext/>

Javascript:

<https://github.com/SlexAxtton/Jed>

or eventually fetch the translated data from the tvh http server using AJAX at javascript runtime.

After days of hacking, I have something useable. In latest code, there's intl/ tree with .po files to edit (the top level directory is for C code, the js tree is for javascript). You may use editor like poedit or any text editor to fill msgstr lines. If you type 'make', the tvheadend should be rebuilt using new strings. To activate locale, set the language in ACL grid for active user (German, French, Polish, Czech). I'll write something more probably to wiki when I'll have a little time.

How often you update this translate(which we do) to repository to TVHeadend ?

Add Bulgarian translation option

#10 - 2015-06-21 12:16 - Jaroslav Kysela

Added Bulgarian, Serbian, Croatian and denied English (en), German (de_DE), Bulgarian (bg_BG) - duplicates. For (en) - the strings in C/JS sources should be modified (templates) rather than to create a new (en) locale.

Did you merged only full translate or did you merged also part translate ? I have now about 41% translate and i want to see how looks in Tvheadend... But i plan translate full but need a free time (day)

Please, add independent "Interface Language" in Settings > General
Some people do not like translated programs maby mental problem wink.png

Hello,

Thank's, it's fantastic job, as usual! smile.png

I've started the french translation, i will continue later.

OK. The internationalization is almost finished (except some translations, but it's another story). I'm closing this.
