Description
Direct support of Schedules Direct over their JSON API (you have then ~50 countries with EPG) would be awesome.

+1 for this, xmltv sadly is starting to show its age (almost unmaintained, a lot of grabbers are broken because the source changed something, some work but are totally unreliable, pretty picky what perl version you use), SD JSON seems to become the quasi-standard for guide-data and (to my knowledge) is the only one to officially support most of the world in a legal way (xmltv is in a greyarea, it violates the TOS of most pages it scrapes).

To quote Jose, support for SD "would be awesome"!
