Description

Hello,

When creating a rule to autorec TV shows, for example 3 episodes between 9pm and midnight, would it be possible to have the option to generate only one recording entry instead of 3 different ones?

Since people usually make the recording start a bit sooner and finish a bit later, they end up with 3 overlapping files and need to play with the fastforward a lot. For certain people, including me, it would be easier to just have one file instead of several.

Thank you!

Nice idea, regroup entries in a row in one is a great feature for serie auto recording.
