Description
Hi. I use the create bouquet feature on my network to auto add all my channels. Is it possible to make some kind of blacklist? If I detach a chanel from the auto generated bouquet it just gets added back. What I do at the moment is manually go through all the chanel and dissable the ones I dont want. The muxes change frequently though so this needs to be done often. If I could just blacklist by name or something that would be great. Thanks, Chris
