Description
I noticed that in the web interface section:  configuration > DVB Inputs > Mux Schedulers  I cannot sort the column "Mux": the sort ascending/descending option doesn't seem to work, or at least the sort result does not look like anything I would expect.  If I sort the column "Mux" no effect seems to take place. If I sort some other column (the sort of other columns works), and then sort the Mux column, the order of the rows changes but does not look like anything I would expect (the rows do not seem to have any meaningful order).
